

Staff Announcement – New Zealand

Please join us in welcoming Neal Shaw to the Plasback NZ team. Neal will be based at the Christchurch office and has been appointed to the role of Commercial Manager Plasback. He will shadow Chris Hartshorne and report directly to Phil Cameron. He starts on the 19th July.

Neal has impressive credentials, coupled with an extensive background in Agriculture. He held several strategic and senior roles with Farmlands and Ashburton Trading Society, and more recently was the National Operations Manager running the Mycoplasma bovis eradication programme for AsureQuality Ltd. Throughout his career Neal has demonstrated significant commercial and operational capability and success, achieving enviable business growth and outstanding sales results.

In addition, Neal has been invited to assume Directorship roles with some well-respected organisations. These include ATS Fuel Limited, Watermetrics NZ Ltd, the Dairy Women's Network, the Agricultural Chemical & Animal Remedies Manufacturers Association, and the Ashburton College Board of Trustees.

His formal qualifications include a Bachelor of Applied Management with a double major in Business Transformation and Change, and Strategic Management, as well as leadership and business programs attained from Melbourne Business School and Purdue University.

Neal has 2 daughters, Melody, who currently lives on Vancouver Island in Canada with her partner and Hayley, who lives in Rolleston with her husband. His wife Carly is also involved in the Agricultural sector working as a Learning and Development advisor for Landpower covering NZ, Australia and the UK.

Having played a bit of sport in his youth, predominantly Basketball, Golf and competitive water-skiing Neal enjoys keeping fit with regular 5am Gym sessions, Mountain biking and the odd game of golf.

Welcome to the Tama family Neal.
